Adult Vocational Classes in W. H. S. Begin This Fall

June 23rd is Enrollment Day

There will be Adult Educational Classes, in Wilmington High School, this fall and winter, if the present plans of the Wilmington School Committee are accepted by a large enough enrollment, of persons desiring the courses offered.

In Conjunction with the State Department of Education, Wilmington will now offer to its adults the vocational classes held in many of the larger cities.

Classes are scheduled to begin about October 1st, and are to be held in the High School, and in the Roman House, one or two evenings a week, for a 20 week period. If held once a week, each class will be three hours long, so as to have a minimum of 60 hours, or, if held twice a week each class will be for two hours, or a maximum of 80 hours.

Classes will probably be offered in nine different subjects. There will be offered, to those who enroll, Classes on Furniture Refinishing; Rug Making Hook and Braid; Decorated Ware and Knitting; Upholstering; Sewing—Beginners Course; Sewing—Advanced Course; Sewing—Children Apparel; and Classes in Americanization.

The Class in Americanization will consist of two parts, Studies of the English Language, and studies in Citizenship, and are intended for persons who wish to become citizens of the United States. A survey by the Immigration Department shows that there are 21 persons in Wilmington who would like to enroll in such a class.

The Classes, as offered, will be given to not less than 12 persons, and to a maximum of 20. Enrollment fee is $1. It might be possible to have classes in other subjects, if a sufficient interest is shown. Enrollment is open to any person residing in Wilmington, who is over 16 years old and is not enrolled in any full time day school.

The classes will be under the guidance of the School Committee, as Trustees for Vocational Education, assisted by an advisory board of three local citizens, not on the school committee, who are interested in the school. Mr. Clifford Good, Superintendent of Schools, will be Executive Officer for the School Committee.

The costs of these classes are not expected to be large. 50 percent of all monies spent in salaries, heat light and maintenance will be refunded by the state.

Teachers will be persons qualified in the subjects, as craftsmen, and will be certified by the State Department of Education. Mr. Good, the Executive Officer is hoping to get most of the teachers from the town, and hopes that any person who feels that he is qualified to teach one of these subjects will report at the Roman House, for an interview. Instructors must be persons who are currently practicing the subject which they will be teaching.

June 23rd has been set aside as Enrollment Day. The High School will be open all day, for this purpose, and, in addition, Mr. Good will be in the Roman House, in the evening, from 7 to 9, to register late comers.

There was no mail on the 5:36 either. Henry spent until 8:30 last night, walking up and down the railroad tracks, one mile each way from the Wilmington Depot, making sure that the mail had not been thrown off, at the wrong spot by mistake.

THE ROTARY SHOWS

Tomorrow evening, in Villanova Hall, the Rotary winds up a season of talent shows, with a grand finale.

These have been no ordinary shows, designed to raise money for this or that reason. On a far loftier scale, these shows have had two fine objectives.

First, they benefit the people of the theatre world, actual and would be. Those who aspire to a career of acting, singing, or dancing have gained valuable experience, as they have tried for the sponsorship of the Community Opticians and the Ted Mack Show. All the actors, whatever their role, have gained experience. A good many were eliminated, but will undoubtedly try again, having gained by their experience. And, the best of these acts, those who have survived the test, will try, tomorrow night, for the grand prize.

Second, the town, and the town only, benefits from the show. This is part of a long range project, to provide playground for youngsters, and park for oldsters, out of what is now mosquito land, in Wilmington center. The money which has been lost, in this town, in a very short period of time, through vandalism, would pay for this park. Surely, it is worth an investment, on the part of every citizen.

Tomorrow night is the last show. The cream of the talent will be there. The patrons can be sure of top-flight enjoyment, and know that they are aiding a top-flight cause. Will you be there?

TELEVISION NEWS

BY JACK MOORE

It is often asked why a tube does not last as long in a TV set as it does in a radio. The complete answer to this could be quite lengthy and highly technical, but to put it briefly, we offer the following explanation. (1) First of all, if the tube is used in that section of a TV that is comparable to a radio, then it will have the exact same life. But, most of the circuits in a TV set are quite different from those used in a radio. (2) For example, the section of the TV that accepts the incoming signal from the station must use tubes capable of handling a band of frequencies that is 600 times greater than the same section of a radio. In other words, the band of frequencies used to produce one TV program is equivalent to 600 radio stations. Tubes must be capable of handling these frequencies. If it handles only a part, then either the sound, picture or both will suffer, then the tube must be replaced. The tube could still function in the radio where only a small demand is made of it. (3) That section of the TV that handles only the picture must amplify a band of frequencies that is 500 times as great as a sound amplifier in a radio. (4) The tubes used in TV that paint the small white lines on the screen must do so at the rate of 15,750 every second, and it must do so in exact synchronism with similar circuits at the TV station. Any slight deviation due to the tube will cause the picture to go out horizontally. The tube must be replaced—yet—it still would probably work in a radio as an amplifier of sound. (5) The highest voltage used in radio is approximately 250 volts. To light up the picture tube in TV, a voltage between 10,000 and 14,000 volts must be employed (depending on the size of the picture). Any slight change will cause poor brightness. (6) To top it all off, the eye is much more critical than the ear in discerning errors or flaws. In electronic circles, the average person is referred to as having a "tin ear"—in comparison to his eye. In other words, the sound must be very poor before it can be discerned, whereas the slightest imperfection in the picture is spotted instantly.

READERS' FORUM

TELEPHONE COMPANY SENDS LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Neilson:

At our recent meeting in Mr. Loring's office, we discussed the proposed extension of the local calling area for the Wilmington exchange. This letter is intended to clarify some of the details, which were not mentioned in your editorial of June 4th.

Our studies indicate that Woburn, Reading and Lowell should logically be included in an enlargement of the Wilmington local service area to better meet the needs of Wilmington customers. These same studies fail to indicate a sufficient volume of calls to and from other points to warrant the higher levels of rates that would be required by such arrangements. If at some future date the community of interest between Wilmington customers and some other contiguous exchange should increase and become comparable with that now existing between the exchanges mentioned above, we would of course give consideration to adding such additional exchange or exchanges to the Wilmington local calling area.

In order to provide the service to the three additional exchanges, it will be necessary to increase the capacity of our plant facilities in the amount of about $30,000. The addition of other exchanges to the calling area for Wilmington would have involved still more expense without commensurate benefit to Wilmington customers.

You asked a question as to the possibilities of a businessman having telephone service in another exchange even though his establishment is located in Wilmington. While the charges for this type of service, called foreign exchange service, are relatively high, because the customer is furnished for his exclusive use a telephone circuit which otherwise could be used for all subscribers' toll calls, if a subscriber has considerable toll billing to a given area, and if in addition he wishes to make it easy for telephone customers in that area to reach him, it sometimes pays a subscriber to install foreign exchange service. Should any of your readers be interested, I shall be glad to check the availability of facilities and quote appropriate charges if facilities can be found to furnish the service.

The question was raised during our discussion as to how the vote of Wilmington customers located in the Town of Tewksbury affected the poll. Without a time consuming and expensive analysis, it would be impossible to provide an answer to this question. In any event, such an answer would be of academic interest, as we must of necessity furnish a calling area which is appropriate to all subscribers in a given exchange, not just to a group of subscribers located in one town. That is why when we discussed the matter of extending area service with the Selectmen of Wilmington, we explained that in addition to Reading and Woburn, which we felt certain many Wilmington residents would be interested in adding to the local calling area, we proposed to offer Lowell service, and why when we discussed the matter with the Tewksbury Selectmen, we explained to them that in addition to Lowell, which many Tewksbury residents were interested in, we proposed to offer Reading and Woburn in the new extended calling area.

As you know, of the customers who voted, including all but eighty-eight of all our Wilmington customers, some sixty-seven percent have voted in favor of the proposed plan, and of the thirty-odd percent who voted against it, approximately one-sixth will actually benefit by it, based on a study of actual usage during April and May of this year. When calls to Reading, Woburn, and Lowell are included in the local Wilmington calling area, customers probably will make three or four calls where they now make one. The increase in the local base rate will, therefore, be more than offset by the increased usage, so that eighty per cent or more of these customers will benefit.

Sincerely yours,
Elliott R. Jackson, Manager
Editors Note: Mr. Jackson refers in his letter to his discussion, last fall, with the Selectmen of Wilmington. That discussion was another of the Board of Directors Meetings, in which public business was discussed in private. Perhaps if the Board of Selectmen had allowed the Crusader reporter to be present, instead of being locked out, the various discussions which later appeared in the press would not have been necessary.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR PRAISES POLICE AND FIREMEN

Dear Sir:

May I attest, through your paper, to the fine service of the Wilmington Police and Fire Department, in saving the life of my father, James Rogers, when he had a stroke, on July 11th. It was only through the timely actions of these two departments that my father lived to reach St. John's Hospital.

Yours truly,
William E. Rogers

IT WAS SOME OTHER LADY

Chief of Police Lynch received a call, from a Police Sergeant in Boston, the other day. A 1950 Chevrolet sedan, greenish in color, had been parked in one spot in Boston for four days. The number corresponded to that of a prominent Wilmington lady. Would the Chief please check?

The Chief told the Sergeant that he knew that it could not be her car, because he had seen her driving it very recently. Would he please have his patrol car check?

The Sergeant called again, in a few minutes, and reported that a second check had been made, and the number was that of our lady.

The Chief called the lady who was at the High School, and asked her to please go out and see if her number plates were on her car. He thought that someone might possibly have stolen her number plates. She did so, and told the Chief that her number plates were on her car, and in good order.

For the third time, the Boston and Wilmington police departments talked it over. Again, the Boston Sergeant called the patrol car, and had them check the number plates on that parked car.

It was the same number as our lady, alright, but this time the police added one more significant fact. The car which was parked had the same number, but it began with the letter "K".

Wilmington Yarns

By Paul D. Emmons.

Editors Note: We apologize to our readers and to Mr. Emmons for having delayed the second installment. From the many inquiries we have had we know it is awaited with interest by our readers.

I have no personal recollection of the tragic events, headlined into every newspaper in the state, attending my first night's stay in Wilmington, for I was only two years old. But they must have disturbed me greatly at the time, for my father and mother had no sooner risen from the supper table in that fine old mansion where Caleb Harriman now presides as lord of the manor, and gone upstairs to put me to bed, than they were both taken violently ill.

Out in a hammock in the grove their friend, Calvin Littlefield, who had induced them to come here, was having a similar experience. Indoors, Uncle Sam and Aunt Lizzie Blanchard, who ran the place as a summer boarding house, were also desperately ill. In fact, there was a wild hullabaloo of vomiting, retching, and purging which lasted all night.

And there was no bathroom! Only an old fashioned country privy! And the only lighting system in that year 1886 consisted of hand lamps, candles and lanterns.

Within an hour after the blow fell the only two people in the house able to walk were Calvin Littlefield's daughter, Susan, a school teacher who had boarded with the Blanchard's one winter and taught in the old school house which is now the Wilmington Public Library, and the fourteen-year-old negro maid in the kitchen—who also pretended to be sick.

A doctor was urgently needed, but there was no telephone—it hadn't been thought of in those days. With five people critically ill on her hands the best Miss Littlefield could do was to take the negro girl and walk down to enlist the aid of Levi Swain, then living in the old Pearson tavern which had been in his wife's family for five generations, and is now owned by Hobart Spring.

READERS' FORUM

AN OPEN LETTER

June 12, 1952.

Dear Sir:

This is an open letter to the Mothers' of Boys in the Service and especially in Korea.

Are not these Boys as important as the boys of World War I and 2?

When are their names going to be added to the Honor Roll in Wilmington?

Some of these boys have even given their lives in Korea.

Let's not forget these Boys. Let's add their names to Wilmington's Honor Roll. They fought for the same cause as World War I and World War II Boys did.

Sincerely and thank you,
Georgianna White

LETTER ON FLUORIDATION

Mrs. Esther Nichols, School Nurse, and long interested in the Public Health activities of the Town of Wilmington has compiled information about Fluoridation of Water, for the readers of the Crusader. Mrs. Nichols is concerned because of a letter which appeared several weeks ago in this paper, and we are happy to print the information which Mrs. Nichols has compiled.

Facts About Water Fluoridation
Reprinted from the May 1952 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, and from the May 1952 Information Bulletin of the American Dental Association.

"The most important single fact about fluoridation is that it will not harm any living thing or interfere with any industrial process. Except for its remarkable benefit to teeth, fluoridation will not affect us, our surroundings, or our way of life in any manner whatever."

"It is a process that does not change the odor, taste, or color of water. It can be done simply and so inexpensively that for a total cost of about the price of one filling the average American can drink fluoridated water for his entire life."

"An infinitesimal quantity of fluoride compound added to a community water supply will reduce tooth decay by as much as two thirds."

"Studies among adults in fluoride areas show that the dental benefits continue throughout life."

"Evidence collected over the past 40 years provides assurance of the safety and benefits of fluoridation."

"Every national health group in the Nation has attested to the safety of fluoridation."

THE C.S.S.C. & G.C. HAS SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Rose E. Mooney, was an Irish Colleen, who settled in Dover, New Hampshire, along with a sister, about 1860. Sometime about 1863, this young lady had bought herself a very nice outfit, and, being an ordinary lady, who wanted a picture of herself, in her nice new clothes.

The hat was of shirred beaver, with a five inch brim, and a soft crown. Two long egret feathers, dyed black, adorned the hat, which was very black itself. In the picture (daguerrotype, actually) Miss Rooney is shown with the hat on the back of her head, so as to show her luxuriant brown hair, above her forehead.

The dress itself, which came down to just above the ankles, was of black lace, and was adorned with a plentitude of small beaded designs. Over the dress Miss Rooney wore a shirred velvet jacket, with a quilt-like lining, quite thick, and rather stiff. Large eyes with double hooks in front of the jacket ensured the wearers waitline was of proper shape and proportion, while further down, two pointed panels reached for the knees, in front, and in back an extra large flounce allowed room for milady's bustle (and who would be seen walking on the street, without a bustle?)

Times changed, and so did milady's style. The black lace dress, (costing, we are told $300), the shirred jacket and the beaver skin hat, along with the picture, were stored away in a trunk. Perhaps Miss Rooney looked at her treasure, from time to time, and perhaps she did not, but, in either event, the clothes kept well. No moths or other insects reached those garments.

A few days ago, Mrs. Marion Justice Murphy, of Chestnut Street was going through some old trunks, in her mother's home. She came across the trunk, and found that the garments were still in good condition. It was just as though Miss Rooney, who was a great grand aunt, had ordered these things for a favorite niece.

Marion had an idea. After dark, last Wednesday evening, she donned those old garments, over her own clothing, and started off for the regular weekly meeting of the Chestnut Street Sewing Circle and Gossip Club. On the way, just for fun, Marion stopped in and said hello to Mrs. Quigley.

Mrs. Quigley was properly impressed, and, fortified by the impression that she had made, Marion continued on her way. The costume, as we all know now, was Black, and not too readily noticeable, from an automobile, hence, although the drivers were aware that there was someone ahead, it was not until the car was abreast of Mrs. Murphy that any of the occupants of the passing cars realized what they were seeing. Many a neck was suddenly wrenched as people turned for a second look.

The evening was a perfect success. The ladies of the C.S.S.C. & G.C. were all very appreciative of the costume. Marion had to tell three or four times all about Miss Rose Rooney, and there wasn't even time for gossip, as the ladies sewed on, through the evening.

She wore a gown of rose iridescence taffeta, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses, while the bridesmaids, sisters of the groom, the Misses Jennette and Dorothy Citrone of Hyde Park, wore gown of light green, and had head pieces of flowers to match their bouquets of red roses.

The groom's best friend, Mr. Charles Renvire, of Boston, served him as Best Man, while his brother, Mr. Joseph Citrone, and his cousin, Mr. John Conti, of Hyde Park, served as ushers.

The reception, after the ceremony, was in the Municipal Building, River Street, Hyde Park. The room was beautifully decorated, and music was provided by Al Tedesby's orchestra. The brides mother wore a rose dress, with a corsage of yellow tea roses, while the groom's mother wore navy blue, with an orchid.

For her going away costume the bride chose a gray fitted suit, with pink accessories.

WILMINGTON GIRL SCOUT FAMILY BANQUET A SUCCESS

The first family banquet, for the Wilmington Girl Scouts, held on June 3rd., in the High School Cafeteria, was a very successful party. The nine Girl Scout Troops of Wilmington, along with mothers and dads, over 200 persons, sat down to a delicious ham supper, prepared by some of the ladies of the Methodist Church, in charge of Mrs. Roland Fuller.

At the head table were Executive Director Stansfield, of the Lowell Council of Girl Scouts, together with Miss Natalie O'Donohue, Field Director of the Lowell Council. Also at the head table were Miss Eleanor Grimes, of the Wilmington Town Committee, and Mrs. Paula Rice and Mrs. Doris Traer, Co-Chairman of the Banquet, Selectman and Mrs. Kenneth Lyons, and Adrian Durkee, Vice President of the Wilmington Rotary Club. There were two Senior Girl Scouts, two Intermediate Girl Scouts, and two Brownies, to represent the Girl Scout movement, in Wilmington.

The evening was an event in the young girl's lives. Twenty-five Brownies, who had attained the age of ten years, went through the ceremony of "Flying Up" to their Girl Scout Troop. All Girl Scouts and Brownies received the Attendance Stars. Merit Badges, for which the girls had been working during the past year, were awarded. Seven Girl Scouts received the Senior Pins, and it is thought that this may be the first time in Wilmington Girl Scouts, that such an award has been made.

The banquet, which began at 6 p.m. closed at 8:30 p.m. after the singing of Taps, and the Girl Scout Hymn.

WHITEFIELD MOTHERS CLUB

The Annual Meeting of the Whitefield Mothers Club was held at the home of Mrs. Christine Deming, on June 2nd.

A report was given by the retiring president, Mrs. Jean Epstein, on the transportation of children to the Dental Clinic. The Mother's Club was very successful in arranging for a taxi service to be set up, between the School and the Clinic, at a cost of 25 cents per child. The Mother's Club made up the remainder of the cost, which amounted to $14.15 for the year. The record shows that every child from the school arrived on time for his appointment. The Club voted to continue the plan for next year, and to raise money for same. Appreciation was expressed for Mrs. Epstein's efforts in behalf of the Club.

The Club decided to change its schedule to 4 business meetings a year, instead of 10, so that better co-operation can be made with the PTA program.

The Club presented twelve books to the Wilmington Library, and contributed $5 towards the Wilmington Rotary Park Fund.

Mrs. Elizabeth Neilson was elected President for the next year, and Mrs. Jean Webster was elected vice president, while Mrs. Shirley Jackman was elected secretary treasurer.

Corsages were presented to the retiring and incoming Presidents.

NIGHT BLOOMING CEREUS

That most interesting of all flowers, the Night Blooming Cereus, put in an appearance recently at the home of Mrs. Edith Sylmnes, of Woburn Street. The bud started to open about 7:30 one night, and was in full bloom at midnight. It was the third flower that Mrs. Sylmnes has had since she was given the plant, by Miss May Swain, three years ago. The flower is large and beautiful, and lasts just one night. Many neighbors and friends visited, to see it. It was closed, the following morning, by daybreak.

William Doherty, of Everett, a brother of the groom, was best man, and Frederick Neergaard and Joseph Monks were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the 1790 House in Woburn. The mother of the bride wore a dusty pink gown, with white accessories while the mother of the groom wore an aqua gown with white accessories, while in the receiving line.

For her going away ensemble, the bride chose a beige dress with pink accessories.

Miss Sullivan was a graduate of Wilmington High School, and is employed at the Division of Employment Security, in Woburn. Mr. Doherty is a Stoneham High School graduate, and is in the US Navy.

The Next Six Months Are Vital To Americans

by Rev. James Keller

THE NEXT SIX months before election day may be the most important months of your and your children's lives — maybe even in the history of the nation. It is a crucial period when you should vividly and actively remember that "Government Is Your Business."

Yes, your business! Good government starts with you — the citizen. You have an obligation before God and country to fulfill your responsibility as a voter.

That means that you have it in your power to make or break our country.

HERE ARE TWELVE steps that you may find practical in helping to restore the personal participation on the part of each citizen that is essential for the proper functioning of American government:

Fr. Keller for the proper functioning of American government:

1. ENQUIRE about the management of public affairs from authoritative sources. Keep informed. Read and listen. Then form your own opinion about candidates and issues.
2. PRAY for those in public office that they may render conscientious service worthy of the responsibility entrusted to them by the people.
3. ENCOURAGE those with character and competence to dedicate themselves to careers in public service. Government can never be any better than the people in it.
4. STUDY the candidates. Look up their past records, what they stand for, whether they have a reputation for living up to their promises.
5. ATTEND precinct conventions. Your activity, to get best results, should begin in the smallest political division and extend to the top.
6. PARTICIPATE in political meetings. Make your voice heard in the selection of candidates and workers as well as in the formation of policy.
7. CHECK on the voting record of your present representatives. Ask your local newspapers to print their record.
8. STIMULATE others to vote (within the limits prescribed by your State laws).
9. OFFER your service for essential chores and "leg work" in some pre-election job of your own choosing.
10. CONSIDER legitimate political activity as a moral obligation to God and country. (Failure to fulfill this responsibility may be a serious sin of omission.)
11. EXPRESS your preference under any circumstances. If your choice is limited to candidates who are not ideal, remember that a vote for the best available may be better than no vote at all.
12. VOTE for those, regardless of party, who stand for the preservation of our divine heritage of free constitutional government.

FREE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR WILMINGTON SERVICEMEN

The Wilmington Crusader, and the Wilmington Post, 136, of the American Legion have made an agreement which, they hope, will provide every serviceman from Wilmington with his weekly copy of his home town news. Both organizations have been concerned with the fact that it is a difficult thing to send all the news to the boys in the ranks from the old home town, and they feel that a subscription to Wilmington's newspaper should help to keep the boys in touch with home.

The American Legion, Wilmington Post is paying for these subscriptions, which the Crusader

DO WE HAVE THE RIGHT ADDRESS?

The American Legion Post 136 of Wilmington, and the Wilmington Crusader are cooperating, in trying to get the Crusader to every service man and woman from Wilmington. Frequently we discover that some particular person is not getting the paper because we do not have the latest address.

If a paper is sent to a wrong address, the person to whom it is sent is being robbed of his chance to get the home town news, and, in addition, the Wilmington Post of the American Legion, and this paper, are spending money needlessly.

Please write down the correct address of any service man in your family, on a post card, and send it to Box 506, so that we may check against our records.

SERVICE MEN:—When you change your address, please notify us. We want you to get the paper as promptly as possible.

TOWN NOTES

THE AIDS TO VICTORY

Maybe we could entitle this "Last week's blooper." We had an editorial about the Aids to Victory, and we referred to a letter, which we thought was very good, and was printed elsewhere in the paper. The only trouble was that it wasn't printed elsewhere. It not only wasn't, but it won't be.

The letter was from Donald Mercier of Andover Street, and related how, on the USS Macon, he alone, out of 1000 men, got all sorts of things in the mail, thanks to his home town folks. Every week the Crusader arrived (three or four weeks late, but welcome just the same), and then there was the Christmas Gift from the Aids to Victory.

We thought the letter was very nice. We sent it in to be printed. That was the last we saw of it. But it was still a very nice letter.

BASKET WEAVER

We have seen all kinds of baskets, and all kinds of basket weaves, but one weave, the like of which we never saw before is down at the mill, on Main Street, near Lowell Street. Mr. LaDow has woven himself a fence, using boards, and the old familiar basket weave. A basket fence, no less!

THE GOLDEN PEASPOON

We went around and inspected the garden of Mrs. Delaronde, of Mystic Avenue, yesterday, and we would guess that the winner of the Golden Peaspoon Award, last year, doesn't stand a chance this year.

Mrs. Delaronde is growing a variety of peas this year, in which you are supposed to eat pod and all. Something new, we guess. The flowers are purple, which we never saw before on eating peas.

ANOTHER BUSINESS COMING???

We heard a rumor about a couple of young fellows who want to start a "better" restaurant, in Wilmington. According to our information, these people are considering investing $35,000 in the enterprise. We have heard the story from several sources, but no one can offer any more information than we print here.

RAINFALL

For the first time in weeks, there has been less than one inch of rain, during the past week. A week's rainfall of one inch ensures that the lawn in front of your house will grow to the point where it will require cutting, and that the weeds in your garden will grow to a point where they will require weeding. This week there was 10 inch of rain on the 10th and .03 inch on the 11th.

In a way, we welcome this change. There has been so much rain that the mosquitoes have a banner year. Now, with the first chance for the brooks and creeks to subside, we may also look for fewer mosquitoes, in two weeks.

THEY CUT DOWN THE OLD PINE TREE

We can afford to be corny with this one. The old pine tree, which stood at the corner of North Street and Middlesex Avenue, has been cut down, a victim to progress. At a point four feet above the ground it was 42 inches in diameter, and we counted the rings, at a cut seven feet above the ground—95.

We always hate to see an old tree go—even a homely one, such as this. It probably qualified as one of the homeliest trees in town—mishapen branches stuck out at all angles, and alternated with broken stubs, sticking out at still other angles.

TWO FOOD SALES ARE BETTER THAN ONE

Last weeks Crusader carried two stories about Food Sales, on the lawn of Bob Michelson's store, on Saturday morning. The ladies of the VFW Auxiliary, and the ladies of the Mothers Club of the Rainbow Girls had each reserved the lawn for their own food sale, several weeks ago. We suppose Bob was too busy selling shoes, to notice that the two dates were the same.

The Mother's Club hurriedly changed their food sale to Friday, so as not to conflict with the VFW Auxiliary. They probably did not pay any attention to Friday the Thirteenth.

We think the Mother's Club should have kept that Saturday date. There is plenty of room on Bob's lawn, and we really believe that the competition would stimulate trade.

Not only that, but it would have been fun.

BOOSTER LEAGUE

The biggest upset of the season occurred in the Senior League last week when Silver Lake soundly defeated the previously undefeated Center team by the score of 9-3. "Hickey" Smalley allowed only five hits in pitching the Lake team to its second victory of the year and also gathered three hits to establish himself as the hitting star of the team. G. Fuller and Duggan each had two hits apiece for the winners.

In the Junior Division, North Wilmington ran into a lot of trouble in trying to keep its undefeated streak alive when it met the Center team last week. However, North Wilmington managed to come out on top by the score of 14-10. Arthur Penny's homerun with the bases loaded was the margin of victory for the winners.

The Center Juniors lost another heartbreaker to Silver Lake last Wednesday night. The score was 9-8. Defensive lapses on the part of the losers, and sound hitting by the victors gave Silver Lake its first win of the year.

This week, an All-Star team will be picked of boys between the ages of eight and twelve. The names of the boys will be announced and practice will be held at the Common, next Thursday night, at 6:30.

OPENING ANNOUNCED AT WEBB BROOK GOLF COURSE

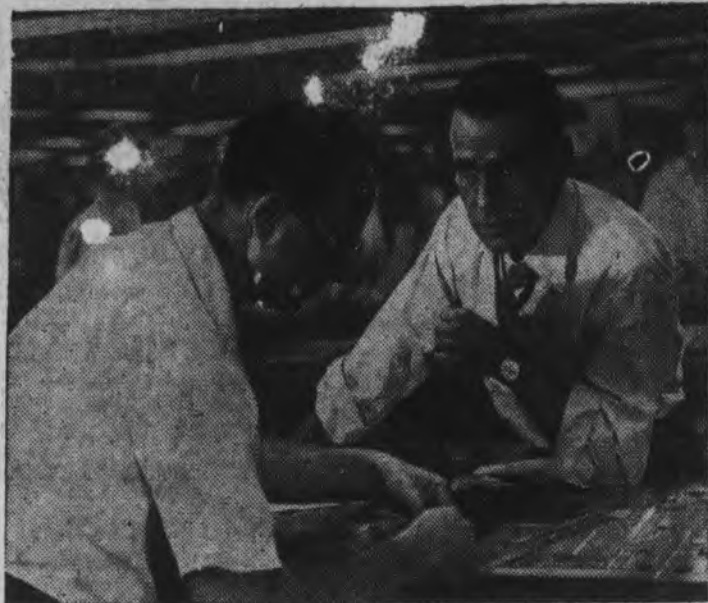

New, Modern Golf Course Opens In Billerica. A large crowd of golf enthusiasts will tee off this coming Saturday at Billerica's new golf course. Golfers in this area were pleased to hear that the Webb Brook Golf Course has been completed and will be ready for action this Saturday. Stan Talutis, owner and manager, says the response to this new enterprise has been wonderful and is in high hopes that the first season will be very successful.

Designed by Mitchell Brothers, golf course specialists, this modern nine claims to be the shortest and snappiest in New England. This will prove to be a spot for relaxation and pleasure the local golfers converge here. Dick Blake of Wilmington is the greenskeeper. Dick was formerly of the Concord and Salem Golf Course, and his past performances prove that the Webb Brook will be one of the best kept nines in this area.

Stan informs us that tournaments, featuring several big name golfers will be held here from time to time providing extra thrills for the Webb Brook patrons.

The public is cordially invited to the grand opening this Saturday which will prove to be a great day in the annals of golfing in this area. The local golfers have long sought a course such as this and that is the reason for the wonderful reception that the new club has received. In case some of you are not familiar with the location the Webb Brook is located on Webb Brook Road, Billerica, just ¼ mile off U.S. Route 3.

Be sure to be on hand this Saturday to help send off Billerica's new modern nine.

Fighting editor Humphrey Bogart orders his composing room into high gear in "Deadline—U.S.A." Twentieth Century-Fox's newspaper thriller now at the Strand Theatre in Lowell.
